

Don't Study Vietnam, Study McArthur and Marshall

Description

BFO moment.

Why are we still looking at war strategies for Iraq? Not to say there isn't a need for such thinking, but I think it's better applied to the larger issue of worldwide terrorism.

As far as Iraq, we need to be face down into how the Marshall Plan and General McArthur's methods for Germany and Japan were formulated and then put into place....

This is a teaser. I have to hit the road, but I'll be working on this thought much, much more!
