

Valour-IT: Fund Drive for 2006 Ends Today

Description

It's been an exciting 13 days. Lots of interesting blogs discovered, many interesting comments read, but...most importantly the overwhelming support for the people to show that character trait of compassion, just because it's for someone they don't even know, that stood up for them, not even knowing all of us.

All I'd say if take it to the International Date Line! Beth didn't say which time zone's 2359 would determine the final bell...

Thank each and every one, whether your name/blog showed up on a Valour-IT team list, or if you just took up for the cause and pointed people to the donate buttons...
