

So You Want to Be a Navy SEAL?

Description

Begin your training in your backyard!

Brookstone sku # 626382

Pool archery game lets you be the Robin Hood of the pool, beating opponents with a keen eye and steady hand.

Get ready and take aim, from the comfort of your lounge chair or the cool water of the pool itself. Hit the floating target to test your accuracy and rack up the highest points.

It doesn't come with a high priced P-3 Orion toilet seat price tag, either! Great for all ages, and if you don't want to be a SEAL, but are planning to go on a cruise, this is just the ticket to become part of the ship's self defense force.

For those looking for the fast track to the Navy's special Warfare Community, after you master shooting the target in the pool, then take it out and put it in the lake and fire away from your ski boat, to be familiar with the dynamics of two moving points in the equation.
