

Monday Maritime Matters

Description

Seems like Eagle1 and I are behind the power curve again...

Been a wild weekend, showing the boss how to make use of a 35K long list in Excel...reminds me of planning operations at sea, it does. At sea "second nature" skills seems to flow freely to the top. and astonished longs are all around.

Please mark your reading calenders for the 24th. Something big is in the works, for a special edition of Maritime Matters.

Check later today for a real post in this space. Amuse yourselves by reading Fred Fry's Maritime Monday 107 and check out how DCTT procedures have made their way outside the haze gray lifelines!
