Valour-IT: 25 More Injured Service Members in the Queue

Description

Valour-IT isnâ€™t just for Memorial and Veteranâ€™s Day. Our young (and some not so young) citizens, who stepped up to the plate and have been injured can use a little help.

Matt of Black Five reminds us to not forget those who have given so much. Thereâ€™s the Valour-IT logo on my sidebar, thereâ€™s one on my Charities page, or you can click HERE on the Soldierâ€™s Angels site if you feel you havenâ€™t found a link to get to the place to donate a few bucks (or many).

This program, Iâ€™m convinced, will not only be a great morale booster to our injured troops, but will pave a road for many disabled, be it in the military or at their job on a construction site somewhere, in and out of the United States, setting a process to model for a long time to come. Join in a be a part of something bigger than you can imagine by helping soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines communicate with their families, their â€œshipmatesâ€• and others in their lives.

default watermark

Also: Fellow Bloggers, military related or not, please consider passing this info along via your readership. Link here, link to Black Five, link to Soldierâ€™s Angels, butâ€¦.please just link it!

Thank you for your consideration.

Trackbacked/Crossposted to:
Dianeâ€™s Stuff

Category

1. Blogging
2. Charities
3. Military
4. Supporting the Troops
5. Technology

Date Created
October 4, 2006
Author
admin