OPSEC? Yep, itâ€™s Still an Issue

Description

I was in the depths of the Valour-IT drive, and saved this bit of trivia from a review of my sitemeter info. Time to wheel it out in the sunshine for us to consider in the Milblogging community.

The search via Yahoo was: â€œworks or activity pattern in navyâ€• (I just did the search as a reference point)

The location data was: Chahar Mahall va Bakhtiari, Iran

If they have an international strait, where much of the worldâ€™s crude oil passes through, they just might want to figure out something about how a nationâ€™s Navy (in this case) may operate to oppose their choke point opsâ€¦
