Sandy â€œBurglerâ€• Song Contest Winner on Bill Bennett

Description

Here is it. They have the audio done there, too! Ron Allen is the winner.

Oh, it was a contest held by Bill Bennett on his morning talk show to come up with a song about Sandy Berger taking files from the National Archives.

Lyrics from the post:

> Sandy Berger Can
> by Ron Allen
> (to the tune of â€œSecret Agent Manâ€•)
> Bill and Hillary lookinâ€™ for a legacy
> But the national archives held a vast conspiracy
> They thought about a plan
> Asking who would be their man
> Who can we now trust to crack this quandary?
> Sandy Berger can
> Sandy Berger can
> He can stuff that troubling history into his socks and pants
> Now Bill and Hillary met with Sandy Berger.
> They talked about the planâ€¦now itÃ¢â‚¬â„¢s not murder.
> They gave him all heâ€™d need.
> They thought he could succeed.
> It simple, just go in and get those files.
> Sandy Berger can
> Sandy Berger can
> HeÃ¢â‚¬â„¢ll stuff those troubling files into his socks and pants.
> The day had come and it was time to do it.
> If he is caught the press can misconstrue it.
> ItÃ¢â‚¬â„¢s not that big a deal, it had a presidential seal.
> And he said heÃ¢â‚¬â„¢s sorry so that ends it.
> Sandy Berger can
> Sandy Berger can
> HeÃ¢â‚¬â„¢ll get us eight more years
> So we can implement our plan
