A Little â€œLightâ€• Reading

Description

Two years ago, I spent a few days being a serial poster. I had originally done it at the â€œJunior Blog,â€• but found the time tonight to bring it all over into the database, update the links and now Iâ€™ll invite your attention to the series, â€œThe Value of the Military Skill Set.â€•

If anyone has any inputs, sent them in. I did it as a sort of â€œcultural translatorâ€• from how â€œweâ€• so often look at things and donâ€™t seem able to sometimes make a good connection with those who havenâ€™t servedâ€¦.

Hereâ€™s the index for your reading enjoyment:

default watermark

Part I: Initiative, marketing, sales, project planning and program management skills
Part II: Auditing Skills
Part III: Operations 24/7/365
Part IV: Ã¢â‚¬Å“Point PapersÃ¢â‚¬Â•
Part V: Collateral Duties
Part VI: The Ã¢â‚¬Å“Git Ã¢â‚¬Ëœer done!Ã¢â‚¬Â• Factor
Part VII: Ã¢â‚¬Å“Total CareÃ¢â‚¬Â•
Part VIII: Communications in the Workplace
Part IX: â€œGive a smart person with potential a chanceâ€•
Part X: Process Engineering, Continuous Improvement, Total Quality Management, Total Quality Leadership, or what ever you call it. The bottom line title: Making Ã¢â‚¬Å“itÃ¢â‚¬Â• better
Part XI: The Militaryâ€™s Supply System
Part XII: Ã¢â‚¬Å“Red Blood or Red InkÃ¢â‚¬Â•
Part XIII: Constructive Plagiarism

Category

1. Leadership
2. Military

Date Created
February 5, 2007
Author
admin