Last Post for a While?

Description

Update 2/14/2007, at the new day. Moved. Is it all working? Dunno at the fine detail level, but seems to be. If youâ€™re planning to do this, ask. Not impossible, but took some multi-application maneuvering, playing with SQL, and stuff lie that.

Time to move hosting places. I spent the weekend â€œexperimentingâ€• on super secretâ€• blogs (meaning no one would even notice me mucking about with the servers settings, .htaccess pages and the like, until I am positive I can move this blog, with the minor exception of the blogroll DB, to another place in cyberspaceâ€¦.More domains, twice the hard drive space, less cost.

Update 2/13/2007:Ã¯Â¿Â½ Getting close to being able to make sure everything comes across the great divide intact, and, with all the links updated.Ã¯Â¿Â½ Iâ€™ve been in the bowels of SQL and text editors, looking at raw data dumps.Ã¯Â¿Â½ The first pass left the Army blogs listed as â€œNavyâ€• and the Navy blogs as â€œMilitary.â€•Ã¯Â¿Â½ I figured out how to fix that, but then it threw off the post category listings, which became itâ€™s own investigation, but all are looking good now, I just need to do a find and replace in the old posts, so when they come across after the final import, the lniks in my work wonâ€™t be broken.Ã¯Â¿Â½ If anyone is going to migrate a WordPress installation, Iâ€™ll be happy to advise.

Set back: If you have been using my post links, the database set the lead in as â€œhttp://chaoticsynapticactivity.netfirms.com.â€• Like my advice to beginning bloggers a few posts back, I now see that was an issue I needed to address right away on this blog set up, before I went public.

If you have blogrolled me, and youâ€™re will to try and hang onto my link, check to see if its â€œhttp://www.chaoticsynapticactivity.comâ€• or the NetFirms version that may have been a result of a copy and save from the address box at the top of the browser.

I have some posts in mind, but I donâ€™t want to loose them in the next few days.

I did move one domain yesterday and it was all done within about 30 minutes, including the response on the new name serversâ€¦.

So, â€œloyalâ€• readers, or those who just found me and want to keep reading, if your link to me is â€œbrokenâ€• in the next day or two, look at the browser address. If itâ€™s www.chaoticsynapticactivity.com, then itâ€™s probably not yet been flushed through all the net name servers. If youâ€™re using the Netfirms pointerâ€¦.please consider fixing it.

Of course, if youâ€™ve got a broken link, these directions will have evaporated anyhowâ€¦.

So, follow me and I will also be making sure the email for the site gets moved, too, so the access will have some degree of continuity.

Later, all and thanks for all the fishâ€¦
