Residents still reeling from the vicious winter attack by Mother Nature (aka Gaia) are now demanding Congress get on with the Global Warming issueâ€¦but in this strange turn of events, they want Congress to figure out how to make their localities warm once more.

Today, angry calls and emails flooded the Congressional Offices from constituents wondering why Congress wants to stop global warming. From the perspective of towns blanketed in over 100 inches of snow in the last few days, polls conducted by USA Today, the New York Times, CNN and other sources show a significant reversal of the sentiment about how global warming is hurting the planet.

Scientists who have been claiming Global Warming is a coming catastrophe are hearing remarks like this: â€œIf itâ€™s so warm, just where in the H did all this snow come from? I personally think they misread their temperature graphs and weâ€™re headed into another ice age!â€•

So far, no statements have been released from the Speakerâ€™s Office on the subject.

I admit, Iâ€™m no Scott Ott of Scrappleface, butâ€¦I try.
