Looking for Ship History?

Description

I found the .pdf files for one of my commands, courtesy of the taxpayers dollars!

Naval Ship Histories has the CNO mandated monthly history reports scanned in for some ships. I got the see some of the formal submissions I wrote!

There isnâ€™t every ship, but yourâ€™s just might be one of them.

Also, as a bonus for reading this post, thanks to Eagle Speak, I found out the DoD publishes a â€œBloggers Roundtableâ€•, where there is material to address some of the issues and news in the blogs:

> Welcome to the archives of the â€œBloggersâ€™ Roundtable.â€• Here you will find source material for recent stories in the blogosphere concerning the Department of Defense (DoD) and the Global War on Terrorism by bloggers and online journalists. Where available, this includes transcripts, biographies, related fact sheets and video.
