George Carlin telling about his â€œmodernessâ€•
Andâ€¦Chap and company tell us about more robust technology (blatantly lifted from a comment section on Cdr Salamander):Regarding â€œwheelbooks:â€•

> Iâ€™ve been a staff weenie too long, but I remember the half hearted attempts (at spectacular cost!) the sub force made at updating tech. Problem was, paperâ€™s a pretty good tech.
> â€”â€”
> You donâ€™t have to reboot a wheelbook.
> If a wheelbook falls in the water, you can retrieve the data.
> Wheelbooks are EMP hardened.
> If a wheelbook gets a virus, you just wipe it off and smack the guy who coughed on it.
> Wheelbooks are backwards compatible. Upgrades are simpler than drag and drop.
> In the event of a loss of power, your wheelbook is still perfectly useable.
> Wheelbooks donâ€™t accidentally send pr0n to five hundred of your closest friends.
> If itâ€™s ten seconds to live fire and the wheelbook is jostled and lands on the deckâ€¦you just pick it up and keep going.
> Wheelbooks do not require Wheelbook IT admins, nor endless rules about what background can be put on the wheelbook.
> If you have a dirty picture in your wheelbook youâ€™re not very likely to get thrown off the boat and sent to jail.
> Personal choice in wheelbooks is not prohibited.
> Someone elseâ€™s personal choice in wheelbook will not cause your wheelbook to lose all the writing on the pages.

Further augmented by other reasoned individuals, these add ons:

Wheelbooks arenâ€™t forbidden in SCFs

Wheelbooks wonâ€™t shut down on you in the middle of a meeting when the battery rolls over and dies
