Global Defense Group Blog

Description

I found the Global Defense Group blog via a comment on Acute Politics (written by an Active Duty Soldier currently completing his tour in Iraq). Scanning the GDG site quickly, it looks like thereâ€™s some interesting posts on three, and also I noted they are looking for help, in the form of authors and other technical support.

> Contributors are the key to the success of Global Defense Group.
> It is the members of the community who bring this site to life, and without the contributors GDG would be little more than a bunch of buttons on a web page.
> GDG is always on the prowl for qualified â€œauthorsâ€•, and if you have experience in any of the following areas, we encourage you to contact us about becoming a contributor to the blogs, databases or media archives:
>
> * Terrorism and Counter-Terrorism
> * Cyber-Terrorism, Hacking and Internet Security
> * Domestic Politics and, in particular, Political Activism
> * Military/Insurgency Tactics and Military History
> * Homeland Security and Law Enforcement
> * Digital Video/Audio/Podcast Production
> * Border Security and Illegal Immigration
> * Diplomacy and International Law
> * WMD and Nuclear Proliferation
> * Islam and The Qâ€™uran (Arabic and Farsi translators wanted!)
> * The Constitution and United States Law
> * Political Satire and Political Cartooning
> * Global Economics and The Oil Industry
> * Middle East History and the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict
>
> In addition to the specialized fields listed above, GDG is also looking for dedicated individuals to help with the daily operations of the site. While these people will not be in â€œthe lime lightâ€•, their contributions will be essential for the efficient and continued operation of the site.
> Some of these areas are:
> * Maintaining the Events Calendar
> * Research and Documentation
> * Forum and Chat Room Moderation
> * Maintaining Image and Video Archives
> * Site Promotion and Recruitment
> * Coordination and Correspondence

* Video and Podcast Production
* Editing and Publishing
* Legal Protection
* More Research and Documentation

The individuals who perform these tasks will be given â€œAuthorâ€• access or higher, depending upon the access required for each job. Members will be selected to fill these important roles based on a variety of factors, including availability, expertise, and an ability to work and communicate with others.

Sounds like some of the readers here might be able to lend a hand over thereâ€¦.

Also: Donâ€™t miss Teflon Donâ€™s (Acute Politics Blogger) short but wonderfully written post: Beauty in the Dirt. He has a way with words to rival some of the best novelists, yet he speaks about the real world around himâ€¦
