A Bumper Sticker Trifecta

Description

Whilst out performing work, I ended up behind a van, nothing expensive, adorned with three â€œstatements:â€•

â€œImpeach Bush Torture Cheneyâ€• Funny, â€œTurbanâ€• Durbin and the Dems are now talking about criminally charging the CIA personnel who used a technique Congress doesnâ€™t have the guts to name as torture by law, yet those of the same stripe would support doing the waterboarding, or worse, to elected officials of the highest order.

â€œThe Bill of Rights â€¦or Pre-9/11â€• Am I missing something? A guy driving down a major interstate in a major city and there were no Black Helicopters following him, attempting to drop SWAT ninjas on the roof of his vehicle. I observed no bullet holes in his van, either, from prior complications with rampant, controlling entities dispatched to remove his freedom of speech. Then again, if he was known to have phone conversations with known terrorists from outside the country, I can see how he may feel wronged by the Patriot Act.

default watermark

â€œGuns donâ€™t kill people. Lying War Hungry Presidents Do.â€• I may be making an improper assumption, but maybe he was making a statement about Saddam Hussien, the President of Iraq, who was known to use industrial grinders or vats of acid, or maybe the President of Iran, who has children hung and adults stoned, as those who donâ€™t use guns to kill people.

Category

1. Bumper Stickerisms

Date Created
February 8, 2008
Author
admin