Ok, Doggiesâ€¦Your Turn!

Description

It began thusly with the folks who brought you a loud and proud â€œOORAH!â€•, then the the surface bound â€œbus diversâ€• for the aforementioned.

Next: the Zoomies

Andâ€¦finally, now the ground component has itâ€™s place in the structure.

My testimonial? I can only speak for the Navy site, but I have been contacted by and contacted shipmates from many decades gone by. I have been blessed with other â€œshipmatesâ€• in a larger sense, who willingly shared their stories of history with me when I went searching for others involved in operations I blogged about.

default watermark

The TWS staff has put a great tool together, designed for military type social networking. Bring a few buddies to the table and they make it worth your while, but if youâ€™re not in to the â€œrefer a freindâ€• life style, then $20/yr isnâ€™t pretty reasonable in my book.

Hey, Army typesâ€¦give it a shotâ€¦you never know who you might find after all there years.

Note regarding the flap when all of a sudden the USAF got their site and some boneheaded Major declared it an OPSEC nightmare: THe US Military didnâ€™t come to have the wonderful public confidence ratings because the members are a bunch of duncesâ€¦For those who canâ€™t figure it out: Use your head and remember the documents you signed when you got your security clearancesâ€¦â€™nuff said.

Category

1. Public Service

Date Created
August 5, 2008
Author
admin