2012? Noâ€¦2029 is looking bad

Description

The hype is now is the end of mankind is coming in 2012, based on the fact that thatâ€™s the last day listed on the Mayan calender. You know, sometimes you just have to work with finite boundaries and it means nothing more than thatâ€™s all the space you have to work on.

Things imitating art may be more of an issue than we think in reality: Apophis is coming.
