Very, Very "Lexableâ€¦"

Description

Hmmmâ€¦can fly over land or water, has a more affordable price tag (no gear option, I think was $113K), two seats, truck-able, too. Whatâ€™s not for Neptunus Lex to like about it, or some of the rest of us, too, with a little hankering for fun in a VFR world on a â€œconservativeâ€• budget?

I bring you the Icon A5 Sport Plane!

You only need a â€œSport Pilotâ€• rating to fly this one and thatâ€™s much less expensive. Stuck with flying by eyeball and below 10KFt at a max of 120 kts! Oh, yeahâ€¦another â€œLexâ€• feature: Auto-fold wings!Saw the article n the new wired.Drawbacks? Well, an F-16 â€œdriverâ€• is part of the design teamâ€¦which may be a plus for some others.

Get busy filling his tip jar, so we might vie for an opportunity to be a â€œguestâ€• in the right seat..Just read about this in the Wired Magazine at the store, but it doesnâ€™t show on the web site. Update 1/19/2009: Hereâ€™s the link to the Wired article.

Other update: â€œAuto-fold wingsâ€• powered by pilot and/passenger/ground crew/curious bystanders.
