

Ropeyarn Sunday "Sea Stories" and Open Trackbacks

Description

Here's the open post's link to them up!

In the meantime, today's "sea story" isn't directly about the sea, but rather things I learned while in the profession of being at sea.

Now, I take you into the "wayback machine" and send you three years of blogtime into the past for "The Value of the Military Skill Set" Part II.

Comments appreciated. Feel free to travel about the links in that post to the other in that many-parted serial post.
